BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1922

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

J. M. ROBSION LANDS HEAVILY AT CORBIN

The Barbourville band played before the biggest audience it probably ever faced Friday when it played at the Hippodrome at Corbin, the occasion being the speech by Congressman J. M. Robision in which he gave an account of his stewardship and answered those critics who have made certain charges to the effect that he was no longer the friend of labor. Many people were unable to enter the building for lack of room.

Introduced by E. E. Nelson, of Williamsburg, and Henry Wilder, of Corbin, who paid high tribute to his abilities and especially to his friendship for labor, and the fact that his foresight and fighting ability had given us the government road, Mr. Robision announced he had come to give an account of his stewardship. First, he said to his friends, "Let not your hearts be troubled. I have been over twelve of the fifteen counties of my district and in November every man and woman will know they are on the wrong path to Congress, and Robison will be gone the other way."

Mr. Robison sincerely thanked all who had helped him and said that, regardless of politics, he had helped all he could help in his district and that this help had been given to the poorest man on the railroads and to the poorest boy in the hollow. His record shows he secured more claims for his people, more special acts, and new post offices than any other man in Congress. One can't do that and sit down on the job.

The speaker then turned the attention of the big audience to his record on labor.

He proved conclusively that after President Wilson returned the railroads to their owners and a bill was brought in with an anti-strike clause in it he fought it to a finish and, with others put thru the Anderson Amendment which cut out the anti-strike clause and established a board of arbitration for an investigation of wages before any cut was made. Senator Stanley voted for the anti-strike law, Robison cut it out. Finally, the Labor Board was evolved. I did not want it; I voted for the Anderson Amendment—but it was the best we fellows could do. Now, Secretary of Labor Davis states the Labor Board should be done away with."

The speaker paid his "respects" to Mrs. O'Hara, whom he classed with the I. W. W. and Bolsheviks and who promised to go down in his district and work against him.

"Labor can never do itself any good by harboring copperheads in its bosom" and he hoped his opponents would take her into every county of his district and then he would get all the votes. "Whatever you may think of me, you won't think much of Mrs. O'Hara."

"It kind of gets on one when one is doing one's best to be stabbed in the back."

Mr. Robison said he had advised the school teachers to organize as had the miners and railroad men so that they might get decent salaries for pensions, good roads, connecting which they are not now getting. He (Continued on Sixth Page) quoted Dr. E. T. Franklin and Judge F. D. Sampson as having been among his hearers and said if these gentlemen would deny that he had given this advice, he would withdraw from the race.

"There has been no bill brought to Congress which has had for its object the curtailing of freedom of speech, of the press or assembly but I have fought it as well as some sixty odd oppressive war measures."

"The Daugherty action complained of was brought under the Sherman anti-trust law, which was passed when I was a boy. I think I have overstepped the law. What I have said here, I have said in Congress. You will never run the railroads or mines with force." Answering the charge that he had said that $1.00 a day is enough for any laboring man, he denounced it as a lie, showing that he voted for the Noland $3 a day minimum bill. The speaker also showed that his votes and those of J. G. Cooper, railroad labor representative in congress, tallied. He asked if Cooper voted against his friends?

How an attempt to run thru the Civil Service Retirement Bill, providing for a pension of $60.00 per month for all government employees who had worked for the government for FIFTEEN YEARS ONLY proved a failure, was recounted by Mr. Robison. He said these people can be off for sixty days a year and still get full pay, besides being off Saturdays and holidays. They work from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. He and those who fought the measure said, "when you get ready to pension the miner, railroad man and farmer we will think about pensioning these people." He asked those in the audience who favored such pensions to put up their hands. None went up. "Yet this is the one vote that the Federation of Labor declares against me as unfavorable. These pensions would have to be collected from the miner, the railroad man, the washerwoman and farmer."

The speaker said, "Gompers tries to get the railroad men to vote the Democratic ticket, yet the only vote of mine he criticized was cast in my first term, every vote cast in the 67th he says was exactly right. If I am 90 per cent right in the first term and 100 per cent right in the second term, don't you think I'll be all right for the third term?"

Classing the paper called "Labor" as unfair he said the editor does not print the paper but sits in an office besmirching characters and is a foreigner who says "dis" for this. He asked those present if they would think it right to believe all said about them by such a man.

Speaking of the criticisms against him the congressman asked if Seavy could do any better. John Langley had pronounced this "Labor" editor 100 per cent of a liar. The speaker said he had fought for the soldiers' bonus, that new bills are being introduced, and that he would fight for the boys until they got their just rights. He had voted for all bills that would help the soldiers to pay outstanding bills.

The chairman promised to write Mr. Chandler asking for free telephone service.

Miss Reinstedler was authorized to have the office mopped whenever necessary.

HUBBARD-HAMMONS

The marriage of Miss Jean Hubbard, daughter of Sol Hubbard, of Trace Branch, and Mr. Matt Hammons, son of John Hammons, of near Heidrick, took place at the home of the bride Saturday, Oct. 21, Rev. John Martin performing the ceremony. The young couple will live in Heidrick where Mr. Hammons is now building a home.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB

The Woman's Study Club met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Tugge, Wednesday, Oct. 8. The subject "Furniture" was most interestingly discussed by Mrs. W. R. Lay.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. Edward Scent, Tuesday October 31.

To Remove Tar or Grease.

A very sure and safe way to remove tar or any such grease stains from colored gingham is to rub well into the spots fresh lard. Let it lie several hours; then wash in warm soapsuds. All spots will come out easily.

LIFE SENTENCES FOR SLAYERS OF DEPUTY SHERIFF

When Joe Pearl and Walter Fuston slew deputy sheriff John E. Mays, of Knox County, at Locust Grove church, some weeks ago, they came across the line into this county and were arrested by Sheriff Carnes and turned over to Whitley county authorities. At the regular session of Whitley circuit court they were given life sentences. Tom Ned Fuston, the father, received twenty-one years and Miriam Fuston ten years in the penitentiary for conspiracy, which means one dead man and a father and three sons in the penitentiary.

PUBLIC HEALTH LEAGUE

The Public Health League met Monday evening. Rev. John Owen Gross in the chair.

After discussion of ways and means for reaching and interesting the rural communities in Public Health work it was decided that Rev. John Owen Gross and Rev. A. A. Ford should go to the following places and make talks, interesting other speakers in doing the same: Little Brush Creek, Locust Grove, King, Flat Creek, Laura Knox, or Lynn Camp, Hi-Land Park, Trosper. The secretary was asked to write the magistrates and teachers of these places and ask the former to arrange for a meeting and the latter to advertise it.

Public Health Drive for raising money was set for between Nov. 1st to the 10th and Mrs. Sarah Hughes was appointed as chairman, she to appoint her own committees.

Miss Reinstedler read her report which was adopted. She reported that the water children of Upper Brush Creek, Friendship and Lower Fighting Creek are drinking to be contaminated.

The treasurer was instructed to pay outstanding bills.

The chairman promised to write Mr. Chandler asking for free telephone service.

Miss Reinstedler was authorized to have the office mopped whenever necessary.

ACCIDENT IN C. & M. YARDS

Henry Houndsell is in the Logan Hospital with a compound fracture of the leg as the result of a collision between a motor car on which he was riding and a freight engine which was switching in the yards at Heidrick. Several others on the motor car were cut or bruised.

Wm. E. Pilcher, Jr.

Before one of the largest assemblies ever gathered in Grace Church, Wm. E. Pilcher, Jr. of Louisville, last night demonstrated his complete mastery of the pipe organ in a recital which was distinguished for the rare taste and discrimination with which his selections were chosen and the splendid strength with which they were played.—Paducah, Ky.—Hear him at the Christian Church Tuesday night.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

Dr. Franklin has been called to help with the Endowment Campaign now in progress for Dickinson College.

The High School Seniors and the Sophomore, Junior and Senior College classes journeyed to Cumberland Gap Monday, Oct. 23rd. Owing to the fact that it rained most of the day some of their plans were upset but everybody enjoyed a good time just the same.

The U. C. Band went to Corbin last Friday night, Oct. 20th, where they played for Judge Robison's speaking.

Our "Tigers" suffered defeat last Saturday when they met the line pluggers of Cumberland College but those who watched the game say our team did exceptional work to have had so little experience. Hurrah for the Tigers!

Hugh Partin, a former student of Union, spent the week end on the Campus.

Lillie Smith visited us Saturday. Opal Gray spent the week end with relatives in town.

Ellen Howard spent the week end in town with friends.

Maggie J. Burnett went home for the week end.

A good time was had by all at the Dramatic Society Reception last Saturday night, Oct. 21.

The Academy Juniors are glad to welcome Alva Starks, from Evans, Ky., back again.

LEAGUE BALL PLAYER HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edmonson, of Knox, Pa., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Richards, Mr. Edmonson being Mrs. Richard's brother.

Mr. Edmonson, who belongs to the New Orleans, La., Club, does not play with that organization but is manager of the Shamokin, Pa., ball club, which is entirely supported by the J. H. & C. K. Eagle Co., which does some $100,000,000.00 of silk business annually. The players are members of the big leagues and the ball they play is of the real league kind. Not only does the company pay the players handsome salaries, but every employee receives a pass to see the games.

Mr. Edmonson wears a beautiful engraved watch presented to him by the company as a mark of appreciation of his fine management of the ball club.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmonson made the trip by auto, and as it is their first to this part of the country, they are delighted with this section of the mountains.

CECIL

Mrs. Hettie Catron Cecil, aged 76, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Archibald, Sunday morning, Oct. 22, at 4 o'clock, following a long illness which was borne with splendid Christian fortitude. The following children survive: Mrs. Ann Prater, Bloomington, Ky.; Mrs. Nannie Donnelly and Mr. Henry Cecil, East St. Louis, Ill.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Archibald, Barbourville.

The funeral was held at the residence at 10 o'clock, Rev. S. F. Kelly and Rev. John Owen Gross being in charge of the service. Interment was in the City Cemetery and was attended by a great number of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Cecil was born and reared in Knox County and was a woman of lovable character who drew to her many friends whom she held with the same qualities which made them. After a long and useful life she has now passed to that "sweeter and larger sphere of life reserved for those who shed on others kindness and love, and who have a deep, living faith in the Eternal Father.

The pallbearers were six of her nephews: J. F. Catron, Frank H. Catron, Gillis O. Catron, Gordon Catron, Robert W. Cole and L. M. Cole.

LOGAN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Morgan Taylor, of Corbin, was operated on Tuesday and is doing well.

The little daughter of James Gibson, of Warren, had her tonsils removed Tuesday.

Mrs. Lige Williamson, of Stinking Creek, who is undergoing medical treatment, is progressing nicely.

Walter Beddow had his tonsils removed Friday.

Mrs. Jim York underwent a tonsillectomy last week.

Katherine Faulkner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Faulkner, was a tonsil victim Saturday but is smiling again.

SON OF J. M. ALDERSON, HARLAN PUBLISHER, DIES

Jesse M. Alverson, editor and publisher of the Harlan Enterprise, and Mrs. Alverson, were in Pineville a few hours Tuesday between trains taking the body of their little eight year old son to Paris for burial. The little fellow died early Tuesday morning of pneumonia after an illness of little more than a week. His many new friends in Harlan and the few older ones he had in Pineville extend their sincere sympathy to them in their sorrow. — Pineville Sun.

BRAD KINDER KILLED

Brad Kinder, son of Alex Kinder of Artemus, was killed at Loyal, Harlan County, in the L. & N. yards Friday at 10 p.m. when he was thrown from one train under another, the wheel passing up his leg and thigh, ripping open the flesh and smashing the limb. He was taken to the Harlan Hospital and was operated on at 2 a.m. but died on the operating table. The remains were brought to Artemus Sunday, the funeral being held at the Rice graveyard with some 250 people present at the service which was held at the home of Mrs. Kinder's mother, Mrs. W. M. Stewart.

Deceased was about twenty-three years of age and a week before his death a second child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kinder. The sympathy of the whole county has gone out to the relatives of Mr. Kinder, who was a most estimable young man.

PUBLICITY FOR GOOD ROADS

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 17, 1922. To the Editors of Kentucky:

Lord Northcliffe said, upon his recent visit to the Overseas' Writers at Washington, "Remember the power of persistence in journalism."

If the Press of Kentucky will persistently demand that men who are nominated for the Legislature next year WILL VOTE to submit a bond issue of $50,000,000.00 and KEEP ROAD BUILDING OUT OF POLITICS the next Legislature will do so.

Governor Morrison of North Carolina, in opening the Democratic Campaign recently in that State, said of the road situation:

"We authorized $50,000,000.00 for roads. The people were paying automobile tax anyway. We increased it some, not much; put 1c per gallon on gasoline, and converted it all into an interest paying fund and instead of frittering as it came along trying to build roads with it, we are selling the bonds and building the finest system of highways in America. We did not increase tax on anybody to do it except the automobile owner, and on him little. We applied sound business principles to the situation and behold the magic like construction of the system."

WHY CAN'T WE DO LIKEWISE?

Sincerely,
W. L. MOSS.

PARTY ISSUES

Party issues around election time are largely a matter of expediency for vote catching purposes. Ability to transmute election promises into action is quite another question.
Under our form of government,
hedged about as Congress is by committees, there is mighty little chance of an unknown man putting thru any measure he may wish to become a law. He must have a very commanding personality to succeed, and in this respect, we are fortunate in our present congressman, J. M.
Robson. The fact that he has succeeded in passing those measures which he has personally handled is proof that he not only knows the ropes, but has the respect of his fellow congressmen. Any pea can rattle around in box but it takes personality and ability to get results.

Don't let us overlook the fact that some 23 miles of good road in Knox County, which will mean thousands of dollars being left in the county, are due to the initiative of Congressman Robson. His work for soldiers and sailors along the line of pensions shows where he stands so far as national heroes are concerned.

J. M. Robson has not been guilty of pandering to catch-penny methods of vote hunting. On questions affecting the interests of the whole people, he has stood four square for what is right and labor knows that he is its sincere friend, whether the labor be that of the farmer, miner, or railroad man.

The terrific debt left by the previous administration has to be met and taken care of by the Republican party and the fact that it is doing so while steadily refusing to borrow more than it can pay, shows that the finances of the country are in good hands. One of the surest methods of killing prosperity is to load the people down with excessive taxation.
That a bonus will be given to the soldiers and sailors is certain, but when it is given, it will be in such a form that the country can pay it and not give it to them in the form of script by which the boys would lose probably 25 per cent or more.
Everybody knows what happened to those who patriotically bought the war bonds which necessity forced them to sell at a loss. President Harding wants the boys to have a sure thing and not a gold brick.
Such was the debt left by the outgoing administration that it will take careful economy and thought to work out a real solution of the bonus question. The old, slapdash method of plastering a big debt on the nation without means to pay it is against the business methods of the Republican party.

participation: According to Secretary Lansing, President Wilson soon

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Barbourville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Could you ask for a stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. Maola Davis, Allison Ave., says, "I had kidney complaint and suffered awfully with my back. I got so I could hardly keep going and the action of my kidneys was very painful. My ankles and feet were swollen and I bloated all over.
Black spots floated before my eyes and my sight blurred. I used different remedies but Doan's Kidney Pills from the Costellow Drug Store
did me more good than anything else.
They rid me of all the pains and aches and the swellings disappeared. My kidneys acted regularly and my general health improved."

(Statement given Nov. 7, 1915.)

On March 11, 1921, Mrs. Davis added: "All I have said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good.
I do not know what I would have done without them. They have certainly done me a world of good. A few Doan's now and then keep me
free from the trouble I had before I took them."

stand and which therefore becomes a matter of taking advantage of the present and which builds no real foundation for the future. Can the United States become a party to a chase for oil, for instance, or be used as a pawn in trade. If, when necessity arose, the clamor or an outraged people caused the world to take note that we were not too proud to fight, will it not do so again, should necessity arise? Unless a man has real police powers
he is foolish to mix up in a neighbors' quarrel and that truth need not be stressed here either. We stay out of them.

Don't let us forget that not at any time in history has any party had a bigger problem confronting it than had the Republican party when it took office. A quiet confidence in the future pervades the country, except among those who refuse to feel it, business is steadily improving, prices are getting back to normal and, while some feel aggrieved, they will eventually agree that the Republican party, in spite of occasional mistakes perhaps, has been the competent agency which has led the nation out of the wilderness of doubt, debt and misery.

If you want some labor, try to find idle hands.

It is not long ago there were millions out of work.

Talk is cheap. Facts are real.

Under whose administration was the profiteering done?

The terrific debt left by the pre-

PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Presbyterian Sunday School
met Sunday, Oct. 22nd, for reorganization, having been closed since the first of July of the present year.

There were 48 present and much
enthusiasm was expressed at the resumption of the school. Several of the members were unavoidably absent.

Classes were re-assembled under
the leadership of their old teachers
with the exception of one or two.

Officers were elected and we hope
to have our Sunday School in good working order by another Sabbath.

We plan to have a pastor before a
great while and to have the church
back on a more forcible working
basis.

A cordial invitation is extended
all the old members of the Sunday School, church and anyone else who
desires to attend.

METHODIST LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. A. M. Decker
Oct. 20, with thirty-two members
present. The usual business routine was transacted and the year book for 1922 was outlined. Two of the U. C.
professors added their names to the list of members.

December 14 and 15 is the date set
for our annual bazaar.

After adjournment of the meeting
the hostess served a delicious salad course. The next meeting will be at the parsonage with Mrs. Gross as hostess, Nov. 3rd.

Skin Ablaze

with Eczema
Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells!
S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as Red-blood-cells increase in number. Red impurities vanish. We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-gangs of nature! S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1891!

S. S. is the greatest growth of blood-cell builders, blood-cleaners and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs.
Arthur N. Smith, Newark, Ohio,

writes:
"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I know nothing else about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients.
Because S. S. does build red-blood-cells,
it roots rheumatism, builds firm flesh,
fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are rundown. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

BOWLING BROTHERS ESCAPE

Robert and Chester Bowling, under conviction of murder, who escaped from the Middlesboro jail last Thursday morning, were seen near Four Mile the next night, according to information that came to Joe Howard, deputy jailer, but no further report has been heard from them and they are still at large.
Clark Gunter, who was serving a two year's sentence for liquor violations, escaped with them.

The Bowling brothers, recently convicted and given a life sentence for the murder of Columbus Partin who was ambushed on the road near Chenoa, appealed their case thru Judge J. M. Gilbert, their attorney, and last week extension of time for filling briefs was granted by the Court of Appeals. Certification of their escape from the jail, when made to the Court of Appeals by Captain Golden, prosecuting attorney, will mean that their appeal will not be allowed and they must serve their term when captured, which is regarded only as a matter of time.

Reward of $250 each for the capture of Robert and Chester Bowling who escaped the Middlesboro jail two weeks ago, was requested of
Gov. Morrow by Judge Bingham.—

PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Presbyterians Sunday School
met Sunday, Oct. 22nd, for reorganization, having been closed since the
first of July of the present year.

There were 48 present and much
enthusiasm was expressed at the resumption of the school. Several of the members were unavoidably ab-
sent.

Classes were re-assembled under
the leadership of their old teachers
with the exception of one or two.

Officers were elected and we hope
to have our Sunday School in good
working order by another Sabbath.

We plan to have a pastor before a
great while and to have the church
back on a more forcible working
basis.

A cordial invitation is extended
all the old members of the Sunday School, church and anyone else who
desires to attend.

(Mrs.) Mabel B. Lock, Supt.

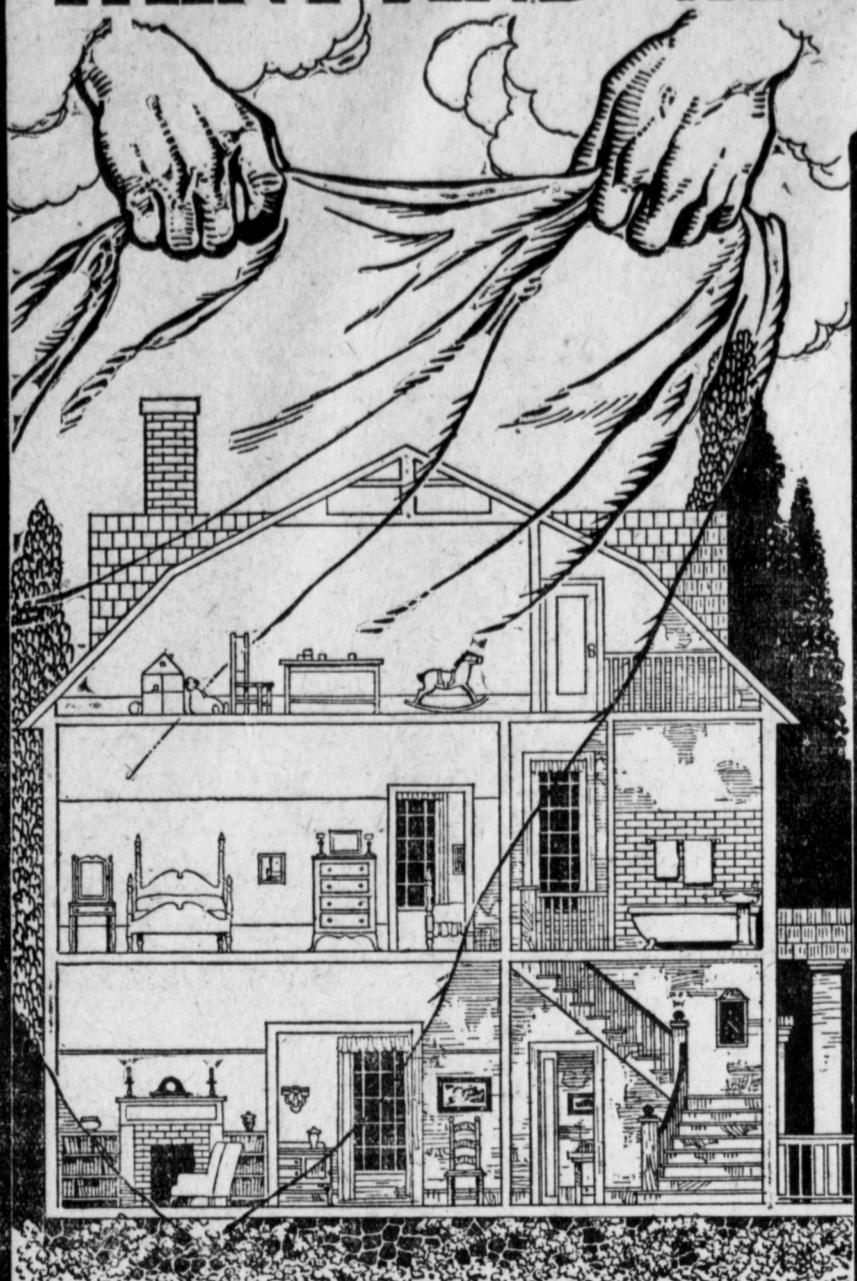

METHODIST LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist
Church met with Mrs. A. M. Decker
Oct. 20, with thirty-two members
present. The usual business routine
was transacted and the year book for 1922 was outlined. Two of the U. C.
professors added their names to the
list of members.

December 14 and 15 is the date set
for our annual bazaar.

DEVOE

PAINT AND VARNISH PRODUCTS

Develop the Beauty of the Home by Using:
DEVOE MIRROLAC STAINS-in-Varnish, Natural Varnishes, Enamels and Polish.
DEVOE LEAD and ZINC PAINT (Strictly Pure.) For use on the outside of the house.
DEVOE VELOUR FINISH MOTTLETONED. This insures a warm, flat finish and in addition an effective mingling of tone which enriches the beauty of the room.

The "Magic Coat" That Brings Wealth and Beauty To Your Home

AT its touch unsuspected charm is revealed; dinginess vanishes; useless things become valuable; old things become new.

A "magic coat" is this coat of paint or varnish.

Think of it! Every article or surface finished with paint or varnish immediately makes the home more beautiful; increases the pride we have in it; the pleasure we get from it.

Every quart used increases the value of the surface or article, ten, twenty or thirty dollars—and the better the paint the greater the return. Therefore, when you buy paint and varnish products buy only the best.

Devoe products are time-tested and proven, backed by the 168 years' experience of the oldest paint manufacturing concern in the U. S. Founded 1754.

ALCOHOLICS DISAPPEARING

Before prohibition, one third of forty thousand patients in Bellevue Hospital were in the alcoholic wards with or without delirium tremens. A great group of these alcoholic cases had pneumonia. The death rate for them was sixty-six per cent, as over against twenty-three percent for the non-alcoholic group. Now one does not see the thoroughly poisoned, chronically soaked alcoholic person in the hospital and the change in the hospital and the change in the pneumonia situation has been correspondingly marked.—Exchange.

RED CROSS WINNING IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Better, Stronger Citizenship Now Emerging Out of Work in United States.

The American Red Cross as an evangelist of better health has looked its problem square in the face. How it accepted the task revealed to it in the nation's physical condition as brought out during the World War, and conscientiously applied its activities to correction forms a vivid chapter in the forthcoming annual report. Historically and practically, nursing is a basic work for the Red Cross. In its public health nursing service, in instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition classes, first aid and life saving courses and health centers, the American Red Cross is applying effectually the lessons learned during the war and making for a healthier, stronger and better nourished citizenry.

The task of the Red Cross Public Health nurse in the 1,240 nursing services now operating throughout the country instructing their communities in health essentials and disease prevention is demonstrating the possibilities of human betterment and the great benefits of enlightenment.

During the last year 318 new public health nursing services were established by Red Cross Chapters, and several hundred services so convincingly proved their effectiveness that they were taken over by public authorities.

In order to promote this work $30,000 was allotted to provide women to prepare themselves for public nursing. The home visits made by the 1,240 nurses aggregated nearly 1,500,000, visits to schools numbered 140,000, and in six months 1,250,000 school children were inspected by these nurses and where defects were found advised examination by physicians. In rural communities this service has made a very marked advance and has won thousands of converts to approved methods of disease prevention.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which fits the student in methods of proper care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes during the last year, enrolled 2,356 instructors, 93,448 students and issued 42,656 certificates.

On June 30, 1922, nutrition service embraced 1,199 classes, with a total of 27,523 children and 2,589 enrolled dietitians. Seventy-eight food selection classes graduated 733 who received Red Cross certificates. In general health activities Red Cross Chapters maintained 377 health centers, serving as many communities, provided 38,751 health lectures for large audiences everywhere, while clinics numbered over 10,000.

PARIS GREEN FOR POISONING

Mixed With Hydrated Lime It Should Be Dusted on Foliage While Dew Is on Plants.

In using Paris green for poisoning biting and chewing insects, that is, the type that bite off and chew up their food, apply 1 to 3 teaspoons of the Paris green to 6 tablespoons of dry hydrated lime. Dust this on the foliage of plants while damp with dew. Paris green will not dissolve in water and hence is not suitable for spraying unless the sprayer agitates the mixture constantly.

PROTEIN IN ORCHARD GRASS

Plant Endures Hot Weather Better Than Timothy and Seems to Thrive in Shade.

Orchard grass is a standard grass which endures hot weather better than timothy and also seems to thrive better than most other kinds in partial shade. The objectionable features are its bunchy habit of growth and the tendency of the hay it makes to become woody when cut a trifle late. Early harvested orchard grass is good, and carries a little more protein than timothy hay.

8,000 HIKING CLUBS IN GREATER NEW YORK

They Swing Along Highways and Through Woods in Groups of Varying Size.

New York.—One must walk nowadays to be in the swim. Statistics gleaned from the out-door departments of the newspapers, from the Boy Scout and Campfire Girls' organizations, from the Y. M. C. A. branches and kindred bodies, from scores of amateur athletic clubs and from the leading dealers in sporting goods, indicate that today there are no less than 8,000 hiking clubs in Greater New York, with a total membership of more than a quarter of a million men and women, who are keeping themselves in the pink of condition and experiencing the real joy of living by getting regularly out into the open country with no other means of locomotion than their God-given legs.

"Best Walkers Make Best Citizens," Says Mayor of New York.

The city of New York has taken official notice of the movement. On three occasions recently Mayor Hylan has congratulated the boys and girls of the public schools upon their enthusiasm in taking up the new sport of hiking. In his dedication of the great new public playground in the Bronx the other day Mayor Hylan extolled the athletic tendencies of the boys and girls and impressed upon them that there was no better or more profitable way in which they could pass their vacations and utilize their holidays than by the excursions into field and forest of their walking clubs. He gave the same message to the Amateur Athletic Union of Brooklyn a few days later, and when a club of East Side boys and girls visited him at city hall preparatory to a hike to the tomb of Roosevelt at Oyster Bay he assured them that the best walkers among them would make the best citizens.

Walk and Be Well

No less enthusiastic a champion of the walking game is Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner. "The benefit to health and the safeguard to morals to be found in long walks" said Dr. Copeland in an interview, "are too apparent to speak of. If one takes long walks alone it is well, for he walks the road of health, but if he takes long walks in company it is better for he adds the tonic of companionship to his exercise. Walking is the one form of exercise in which there is the minimum risk of overdoing it. In short, I consider walking the most beneficial of all exercises and it is never out of season."

"Never in my life-time," said Edward R. Wilbur, manager of a nationally known sporting goods store, "have I known such a demand as now for outdoor garments and shoes and stockings and appliances for the tourist's luncheon box. The rapid spread and tremendous popularity of the walking club idea has no parallel in our experience."

"The hiker can make his requisites just what he feels like spending. Really, there are only two or three articles indispensable to hiking—thick walking shoes that allow lots of room, thick woolen socks and clothing that will give freedom of limb. He should have a canvas or leather moccasin bag, and as the soldiers used in France."

The Cow in the Knapsack

"To get the real benefit and joy out of hiking luncheon should be carried and prepared and eaten in the open. Bread and cheese, a few slices of bacon, some coffee, can of condensed milk, and a cake of chocolate furnish high-powered fuel for the hiker and are readily and happily assimilated even by those who in their pre-hiking days were afflicted with digestive apparatus so feeble as to balk at crackers and milk. Fortunately for the hiker, he can replenish his simple larder at any cross-roads store and provide himself with the most nutritious and appetizing food in a form that can be conveniently carried."

"No single development in the problem of food transportation for the hunter, fisherman, hiker and all lovers of the out-of-doors can compare with the gift bestowed by the man who first found the way to make condensed milk, thereby putting a dairy in every man's knapsack. Before long there will be a national association of hikers, and Gall Borden will be its patron saint. Such an association could do much to encourage the spread of the most beneficial and universal of all outdoor pastimes, map out interesting routes, secure the establishment of shelters, rest-stations, and camp sites at suitable locations, and insure the rights of pedestrians on country roads."

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

LETTER FROM FORMER KNOX COUNTIAN

Lawton, Okla. October 10, '22
 Mr. G. B. Rhodes,
 Calvin, Ky.

Dear Friend:

I received your kind and appreciated letter which has been read and re-read. It found me in good health. I hope this may enjoy the same blessing from the bountiful hand of the Giver of all good. We have had a very dry winter and summer. Crops of all kinds have been nearly a failure, mostly in the Southwest part of the state.

You put to many queries that I may not answer all of them.

Lilburn and his family are living with me on the farm. They have three boys. My family is scattered: Raymond at Imboden, Va., Jesse, Riffle and Charlie at Bristol, 30 miles west of Supulpia, Ernest at Ladora, Iowa; Norman at Granada, Colo.; Maymie and Glenn Stennett at Kiefer, Okla.; Lou in Lawton. I have been to see all my children in the last three years. It is 500 miles to Norman. I have been to see him three times in an auto, some good trips, you bet. My children are all doing very well.

Well, about the Kentucky people: Levi Hoskins, Tom Gilbert, John Jarvis and several others from Comanche County have bought land in Texas, near Brownsville; Levi lives there but the others have not moved yet. Tom Gilbert owns and rents out two or three oil rigs; Jarvis runs a farm in the N. E. part of the state. They claim they make lots of money. Leek and Henry Hockins are still here. Ed Gilbert runs a grocery store on corner of 4th and East St. Lawton, Bro. Jack and Jim Pope live in Lawton. Tipton and his wife, Adair Campbell and their youngest girl are all dead, just Walter, Peety and Robert left. Mat Dean still lives on his farm. Zeke Goodin lives N. E. of Lawton. Melt Trosper is in Lawton. Barber has four girls married and Maud is most grown. Ross Darling went to Texas. He and his wife parted and she has married Charlie Widdup, home in Colorado. McGow lives in town. Burtram in town. Winn Furr on his farm, and Maud, Silve and the old lady in town. Sims lives east of Creggs and south of where Boyce live. Karthas lives in town; the children have scattered off. Mike Marcaon is dead. C. S. Ulrick lives south of Shepherds. John Stoddard lives where you used to live but he is going to start to the lower Rio Grande.

Well, about the Kentucky people: Levi Hoskins, Tom Gilbert, John Jarvis and several others from Comanche County have bought land in Texas, near Brownsville; Levi lives there but the others have not moved yet. TANLAC DEMAND IS GREATER THAN EVER IN HISTORY

Modern Plants Have Increased capacity of 62,240 Bottles A Day
Makers Are Still Behind Orders—Medicine Publicly Endorsed By Best People Everywhere.

During the first seven months of this year 3,584,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold and a new world record for a proprietary medicine is established.

Tanlac's wide spread and ever increasing popularity is the strongest possible proof is the unquestioned merit. No product, no matter how extensively advertised, could continue to establish world records for sales year after year if it did not produce actual and positive results.

Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots, herbs and bark known to medical science. The formula is ethical and conforms to all pure food and drug laws, and although Tanlac's superiority is abundantly supported by leading authorities it is the people who have made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it and have told other millions what it has done, while thousands of the best people in every community have given public statements of the great benefits they have received by taking it.

PROPER METHOD OF FLY CONTROL IS TO PREVENT MULTIPLICATION

A Fly-Trap That Kills the Larvae—The Manure is Stored on a Slatted Rack Above a Concrete Pit Containing Water—Larvae, Following Their Tendency to Burrow Downward, Pass Through Manure and Fall Into Water.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Fly-traps have a distinct place in the control of the house fly and other noxious fly species, although the limitations of fly-traps must be recognized and other methods of control also practiced. The Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, points out that the logical method of fly control is to prevent multiplication, by proper attention to breeding places.

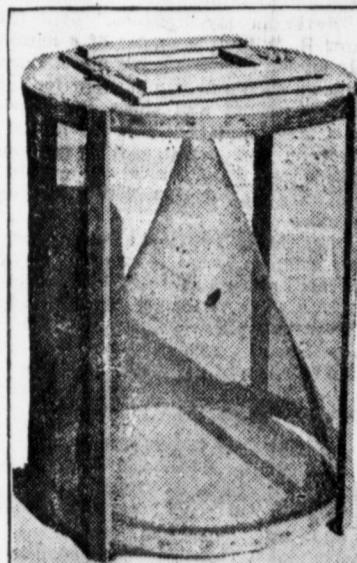

The two main ways in which fly-traps are valuable are by catching flies that come to clean premises from insanitary places and by capturing flies that have escaped from other means of destruction. Nearly all fly-traps are made on the same general principle, although they may appear quite different. The flies are attracted by bait, odors, or light into a cage with a large entrance and an exit too small to be easily found, which is often made by using a cone-shaped passage.

Two Chief Classes of Flies.

There are two chief classes of flies that can be caught in traps—those that breed in animal matter or become a pest to live stock, and those that breed in vegetable as well as in animal matter. The former consist mainly of the so-called blow-flies, including the screw-worm fly; in the latter group the house fly is by far the most important. It is attracted to almost any moist material, especially that having an odor.

The general principle involved in nearly all fly-traps is modified to fit different conditions, as in the window trap, which catches the flies as they endeavor to enter or leave a building; the garbage can trap, and the manure box trap, which retains flies bred from infested manure already in the box. Light is an important factor in the success of all traps, for flies have a marked tendency to go toward the light.

While many commercial traps are on the market, anyone with a few tools can construct traps at a small fraction of the sale price of ready-made ones. The conical hoop trap, which appears from extensive tests to be most effective, durable, easily made and repaired, can also be made quite cheaply. It consists of a screen cylinder with a barrel-hoop frame containing a screen cone inside. The total cost of the material, if bought new at retail prices, is about $1. If only wire and tacks are bought the cost should not exceed 50 cents.

A modification of this trap that can be made more quickly and with fewer tools is suggested. The tent trap is not considered as effective as the conical type. Any good trap may be used over a manure box, which must have a hole cut in the top. The trap is fitted closely over this hole to catch flies bred in the manure.

A Trap for the Window.

A type of modified tent trap may be used in a window. It is adaptable also to barns and buildings where foodstuffs are prepared. It is advised that properly baited traps to catch screw-worm flies be used near watering places and where cattle congregate.

In choosing bait for fly-traps it should be remembered that fermentation renders the material attractive. A mixture of cheap "black-strap" molasses and water is an economical and effective bait for the housefly. One part molasses is mixed with three parts water. Sugar-beet or "stock molasses" is fairly attractive in regions where it is produced. Brown-sugar syrup allowed to ferment is good if mixed in the proportion of one part brown sugar in four parts of water. A small amount of vinegar added hastens fermentation. If honey bees are attracted by this bait some other kind should be used. Milk on dairy farms is the next choice to cane molasses as a cheap and convenient attractant. The curd from the milk combined with brown sugar and water is a very good bait. The best bait containers are broad and shallow rather than deep. Traps must be properly cared for and placed in suitable locations. The bait containers must be kept well filled and also frequently washed out. Traps should be emptied of dead flies at least once a week.

A Good Catch

Sticky fly papers and poisoned baits have their uses in fly control as well as traps, and it is advised that Farmers' Bulletin S51 be consulted for further information on house-fly control and Farmers' Bulletin S57 for additional measures to be used against the screw-worm fly and other flies infesting wounds in stock and those that blow soiled wool in sheep.

TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT AIDED BY PUBLICITY

Inspired More Faith in Safety of Foods From Cows.

Statistics Show That Number of Animals Has Increased and Consumption of Milk Is Much Greater Than Ever Before.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When extensive campaigns against tuberculosis of cattle were launched many persons interested in the dairy business predicted that giving publicity to such conditions would alarm the consumer and reduce the consumption of milk and dairy products. But instead of producing this result, says the United States Department of Agriculture, the increasing efforts to improve the health of herds have inspired more faith in the safety and value of foods from the dairy cow.

Hundreds of towns have made tuberculosis regulations to provide for clean herds and to make milk wholesome and publicity has been given to the various kinds of work done by cities, counties, states, and the Department of Agriculture. As a result of this work to improve the health of the dairy cow, statistics show that the number of cows has increased and the consumption of milk is greater than ever before.

In recent months the most encouraging development in the work of eradicating this great cattle disease has been the number of counties that have made a complete clean-up of the herds on every farm. This area work is demonstrating that complete eradication is not a dream but a practical possibility. The expense will be paid for more efficient herds and better products.

J. M. ROBISON LANDS HEAVILY AT CORBIN

R. R. against the poor man and the only case he has taken since he entered Congress was that of a poor boy who got his arm cut off on the railroad.

As regards Sipple, who claims to be a friend to labor, he goes over the country in his Pullman $7,500 Packard car. He says he was called to preach and quit. If he was called he had no business to quit. The speaker said one thing that had made Sipple money had been oil stock certificates. "Personally, I can not afford to ride around in a Pullman car."

The speaker showed how he helped 75 men who had struck in 1917 for an eight hour day. They were indicted and acquitted and were not charged a penny. Where were Sipple and Seavy then?

"Both Sipple and Seavy have a right to run for Congress, but when they say they are going to be elected they either have no regard for the truth, or if they believe it, their judgement is too bad for them to represent a great people."

Congressman Robison told how he helped the wagon mine owner when the big interests would have closed them down. He said he had personally wired President Taft to the L. & N. pleading with him to make a settlement with the men at this time.

In conclusion Mr. Robison said that if he lost every vote in Corbin, he would still be elected by some 30,000 votes.

Wouldn't it be better for labor to show some appreciation for what he had done while Congressman? "I am of the common people and for the common people."

There is no question but that the speaker knocked out every unfair labor charge brought against him and thereby confounded his political foes. As proof of his friendship for labor, he read letters of commendation from John G. Cooper, of Ohio, a railroad engineer and union man, from Van A. Bitner, International Representative United Mine Workers of America, and from W. G. Lee, President of Railway Trainmen, which should put a quietus on those who are seeking office by the labor vote. 2,500 people heard him. He made a wonderful speech and convinced his audience that he had been misrepresented in Corbin.

The crowd was with him. It was a great meeting and from the account Congressman Robison gave of his actions, he has been working for his people. He has made a great Representative and will continue to do so.

The people are for him.
